

Broken People 11

~OR~

Cracked history, NWO, and the second Great Depression.

Grab your goodies hit afterburner hold on and let's go. I have touched on America's British disease a couple of essays ago. Then some deep shit down in my memory sludge pool floated up additional data. That happens with old age. Back in the 1980's, which were the golden renaissance years from 1978-1988 my little brother, RIP, spent some USAF time in Jolly old England. British Pub crowds liked Lil-Bro calling him decent for a Yank. When pub patrons found out he was US military, they'd say keep your money, Yank it's not worth a thing in these parts and buy all his pints, which there means drinks.

US Yankee green backs were dog shit everywhere after 60 years of Socialist rule in this country that turned our money into hammered shit, especially at the end of Carter's reign of terror when American's nearly burned down Capitol Hill DC with all the culprits locked in it while conducting the first auto da Fe on the DC Whorehouse front lawn in almost 400 years with Carter and his merry band of Neo-socialists as human steak on wooden stakes. This bankrupt country was on brink of civil war. Citizen insurgency grew hotter each day with shortages of everything except swollen Socialist governments and out of control spending, taxes, socialist caused Double digit Inflation, stagflation, shortages of everything but politicians, and over 60 years of collectivist carnage that really took a toll on US. The world said, 'Yankee money stay home.'

American's could not understand the new meme, curse word "inflation." TV talking heads yapped it constantly; government blamed this invisible monster for its impotence, warning American's that inflation hid under the bed so don't look...nobody understood what was this monster gripping USA. In sum the inflation beast is CORRUPT GOVERNMENT MISMANAGEMENT! The socialists blamed Ronald Reagan's administration; Noriega blamed CIA, Oliver North, and Carter. SNAFU - Finger pointing all around while kicking up a shit and sand storm of fury subterfuge hiding truth about inflation: American government mismanagement and socialist rule since early 1900's. Inflation was only part of that predictable, massive, damage to this country. Predictable, you say? Yep! American's were undergoing the inevitable outcome of socialism everywhere and everyplace it is ever attempted. Socialism fails 100% of the time, every time. Socialism was failing and taking this nation's sheeple with it. US government mismanagement since turn of the 1900's came as balance over due payable now, but deadbeat, bankrupt America could not pay her debts and still cannot. That makes USA a slave to our debt holders. Americans have spent selves into bondage, just as Stalin said we would. A powerful banker of the World Bank said, 'When I control a nation's money who cares about who or what makes their laws or the people who make them. I own the country and its people.' American's have voluntarily sold selves into bondage and slavery. Joseph Stalin predicted that in 1950's

Inflation means a medium of exchange aka money supply is worth-less today than yesterday. America was broke. She had nothing as collateral to back up its money supply with value to those that received it in exchange for goods and services. Taking it was no different than taking a blank piece of paper instead of our green colored paper currency. America was in serious trouble and American's knew it but could not put a finger on who, what or why? Just as in 'Who do I shoot?' In John Stienbecks The Grapes of Wrath. Everyone is robbing and stealing from us but no one is accountable. That was the stuff of Nazi Germany's Holocaust now here in America. There is a chapter in John Stienbecks The Grapes of Wrath. An excellent book about The US Great Depression or TGD! Do self a favor, read it. During the TGD economically when US sneezed the rest of the world caught deadly pneumonia. Other countries using and depending upon American dollars to benchmark their currencies value took a tarring when dollar values sank due to deflation, scarcity and lost value. When the US was in The Great Depression or TGD the world was in a black hole, which BTW lit the fuse to WW2. Irresponsible government and a socialist coup d'etat breaking the backs of American independence to yoke of socialist slavery caused the TGD. Like breaking a powerful, young horse to draft slave life pulling a field plow, socialism broke USA's independent spirit to same fate - an addicted slave to narcotic-parasitic collectivism. TGD was part of a plan now nearly a century in progress. WW2 gave US socialists more power and control using war powers in hands of socialist tyranny. WW2 subterfuge and red herring distractions cloaked socialism's overthrow of America well after it ended. Socialist's used its TGD and WW2 economic iron grip choking this country until Ronald Reagan Administration broke its back pulling US from cusp of a second Civil War; a war that would've given them complete control as puppets to their puppet master Russia, and to a lesser extent China. Socialists still have not forgiven Ronald Reagan for spoiling their plans; however, these parasites never give up.

Inflation is when too much worthless money chases scarce high priced goods and services. It is a supply and demand paradigm. The more demand for anything, the more valuable is that person, object, place, or thing. Commerce has been fucking dumb-masses with that con since before god set foot on this rock. However, in a healthy, normal, capitalistic economy this is a good thing. When profits for item 'X' are high more people, companies produce it. Moreover, they make it more efficiently while improving quality. In doing so markets become flooded with widget 'X' lowering prices. As prices go down efficiency in making them goes up.

Consumers win in purchase of better product at lower cost. Computers are a great example. What is now a doorstop built in early 2000's cost several thousands of dollars and had very little computing power in contrast to today. Now a handheld smartphone computer is thousands of times more powerful and less than 50 dollars in cost. Commerce artificially manipulates supply and demand, which is bad for the country and consumers. Corrupt governments, lawmakers, bureaucrats, etc are bed partners in this by making laws keeping monopolies and them in power. Remember above that which controls the money supply controls totally. That is not true capitalism. It is crony socialism with a spritz of capitalism aka dirty government-commerce. Meanwhile true capitalism take a hit on the chin when the punch actually goes to Socialism dressed in drag as capitalism. Consumers and the nation loses. Artificial scarcity keeps costs high, innovations low or absent in an eventual lose/lose. Examples are cars, Internet services or ISP, housing, medicine, ad nauseam. Americans pay a fortune for them while receiving very little in return. American's ignorance comes at a tremendous price to pay.

In 1970's when decades of pent up demand burst loose from nearly a century of socialist wage, price, supply, and manipulations, severe shortages broke out across US. Everything from building supplies, gasoline, meat, coffee, sugar just about everything except government was scarce as hen's teeth and supplies were very expensive when lucky enough to find them. Ronald Reagan understood government was the problem and sided with this nation's people expressing that in following quips, 'the biggest lie in the world is, I'm from government and here to help'...and 'government is the problem not solution.' That endeared President Reagan as 'one of us' to the people. Something socialist has still never managed to do. Why? Mr. Reagan was sincere. Socialism remains insincere. He said what American's going down for the third time needed as a lifesaver away from brink of a second US civil war. In my opinion Ronald Reagan is the greatest president of the 20th century. Bill Clinton tried to imitate Ronald Reagan by playing a Saxophone on TV as a poseur imitation of common proles; his sex scandals appealed to sleazier tastes, but they subterfuged Ruby Ridge, Waco, and OKC Socialist govt massacres attacking the American sheeple.

Runaway inflation in 1970's through much of 1980's rent this country's economic fabric to shreds. Before the days of bar codes, each product for sale in stores had individual prices tags. Inflation changed prices so fast stockers would be replacing price tags while a customer moved goods from shelf to shopping cart. Gas stations were changing gas prices between customers waiting in long lines to fill up. Topping off was highly discouraged because of those lines. Yet, people did so anyway to save money on escalating gas prices. Same scenario for everything else in the country - buy it before prices go up! Hoarding, Yes! As the money's value declined people spent it immediately to get rid of worthless paper in exchange for needed goods and services. Banks would only allow people a set dollar amount withdrawal and recorded that person's ID withdrawing it. Bank failures requiring FDIC to pay depositors were common. When one drove past a bank with long lines of depositors waiting to get in that was an FDIC bank foreclosure. America was in the second Great Depression, except now these were called Recessions. Soft PC words masking the truth and harshness of the times as distraction away from true culprit: wrongheaded Socialist economic policies robbing the country stupid. In sum America was reacting same as in 1929 bank runs and snapping up fast disappearing goods before they either increased in price or became unavailable. Mr. Reagan inherited +60 years of failed socialism and Socialists blamed his administration for their messes.

Stupid American's believed socialist liars once again. Things people needed most were hit economically nastiest of all; so were our people - the poor, fixed income Active duty Military, retired, senior citizens, children, veterans, and more of America's most vulnerable infected by socialist cancer spread throughout the land.

Price scalping was rampant, so were shortages!!! Entire regions of this country dropped into the second Great Depression like a rock sinks in a stream. US Northeastern regions of core industry since US Civil War got hurt most of all and remains comatose on govt welfare life support simply to exist. Socialists still hold economic strings of control on that puppet state one of which is labor unions. THAT WAS / IS SOCIALISM! Socialists did everything hiding their evils and confusing inflation bugbears was only one cloak. However, people were already waking to this beast as far back as 1950-1960's. McCarthyism was one such wake up call as McCarthy rode through the land screaming the Socialists are here, the Socialists are here as famed Paul Revere warned American colonists of British invasion centuries earlier. If you recall, he rode through the colonies and woke up sleeping colonists screaming The British are coming, The British are coming alerting them to inbound British ships loaded with troops intent upon reclaiming her slaves under yoke and subjugation beneath her Majesty's jackboot.

Except this time socialists were already entrenched in American strongholds of govt, education and mass media, especially in Hollywood's propaganda fantasy factory, which controlled minds of our children and dumb-masses. Cinema and her sister slut whored what Hollywood socialist pimped. Americans had an orgy beyond imagination. The fall of America with no shots fired on a silver screen or TV.

An old Jesuit saying, 'give me your children from age 0-6, after that you can have them back. I will own them [their minds] for life.'

Stalin's Socialist Russia, Hitler's Nazi Germany, Europe, and now America in toto, were all lost to Socialism well before first shots of WW2 were fired for the above reason. Socialist intellectuals such as Marx, Engels, Nietzsche, and far more like them already owned minds of the tyrants, the movers, and shakers long before they subjugated prole, dumb-mass minds, and those of their children. The socialist system is clever in that proles pay these facets king's ransoms to brainwash their kids and them into slavery, and maintain that state of control.

Aldous Huxley author of Brave New World wrote these cryptic words, '[people masses will come to love their servitude and die defending it...]'

What NWO, Matrix, and similar Chicken Little, net puppies, parrot is a very old plan. They are nothing more than active, useful-idiot spreading that which they claim to oppose with more destructive zeal than even Lenin's bloodthirsty, communist, pirates could muster on a good day.

Great minds like Ayn Rand screamed with McCarthy's warnings of doom. American's continued sleeping fat, dumb and content in bread, wine, and circus' tents built for US slaves by WORLD socialists. Womb to tomb propaganda kept slaves repeating, "I am not a slave;" words of a perfect slave.

Note, Otto Von Bismarck ruler of pre-Prussia Germany is the originator of US socialism and Social Security Ponzi scheme. He and his parliament created that sham to save the state by enslaving working people to promises of future gain in exchange for their obedience, lives and resources now. I call it the Wimpy system like in Popeye's cartoon character Wimpy. The guy was a moocher always promising to pay Tuesday for a hamburger today. Payday Tuesday never came. All government is that, MOOCHERS. They constantly scheme using stolen resources to steal more.

TAXATION

Plucking a golden egg laying goose of all its feathers while receiving in return the least amount of hissing and biting.

When asked which Tuesday was payday all Wimpy would say is Tuesday. Broken promises of a deadbeat govt? Yep, US stole the socialist scam from Prussia now known as Germany. Oddly, their whole social security scheme failed after 60 years when Prussia's seniors wanted their retirement.

However socialist Weimar lootership wasted taxpayer's resources expanding deadbeat government not funding old people's retirement.

Now do you see why US government brings out the big-gun, terrorist propaganda every time privatizing the Social Security system into 401k and 501k retirement type plans, held and controlled by each wage earner, instead of by government controlled and held Social Security comes up? Dire earth shattering screams of those dirty old Republicans and Wall Street tycoons are trying to rob you, claim the socialists. Baaaabazone bleat American sheeple led by their socialist Shepard's lost in the wilderness as dumb following dumber going round in circles in plenty of time. God and Moses sit upon the mountaintop taking bets about how this SNAFU & FUBAR will end.

Moses, well amused, is saying not even I was that stupid. I quit and let my people go after 40 years. Stupid Americans - still lost almost a century and still at it! Moses has better odds of winning the bet than god in saying, 'my feet still hurt from that 40 year walk in the desert & FUBAR.'

American's love their lies sweet little govt lies.

Social Security as it stands is a 16% flat tax on all wages used to fund deadbeat government agencies like VA and Social Security not for the people's welfare. That is secondary or lower in the gurgler to socialist aims. Social Security is collapsing like the rest of broke dick, bankrupt, Socialist America. The only force keeping America moving is FEAR of what will happen should this gravy train derail. When Prussia's system failed its people did what Americans did at the end of Neo-Carters term except those folks were not fortunate to have Ronald Reagan in the driver's seat detouring around certain ruin.

Predictably, Prussia fell and Hitler took control in what became Germany under rise of the Third Reich or 3rd Empire. US nearly did that, too, which was the plan. The idea was that we be another Socialist Russian Republic colony – get my drift? USSR means United Soviet Socialist Republic, which is not communist; it is socialist. US socialists call the country communist to keep American proles confused.

Annie Besant wrote as a Theosophist in the 1800's. They are crème de la crème Elites. NWO Elites that one hears so much about. The real Elites. Ms. Besant was an intellectual among many highly intelligent women movers and shakers within that power base. Feminazis and women's lib are not their agenda. They do not make even a hiccup to these people, and would not be allowed into the same breathing space with her.

Feminism and feminazis are only employed as useful idiots to another schema.

*Ms. Besant knew that when the plan completed afterwards none of them mattered.

LADIES, HINT, HINT, HINT, HINT, HINT!

She and colleagues focused on much higher goals. As did the greatest female mind of the 20th century Ayn Rand. They remain the female Einstein mind's of their eras and her influences linger with us. Now all this feminist fudge about women not being in high places is pure cobble. What feminists mean is these losers are not in power.

Powerful women do greatly influence humanity side-by-side the powerful men – see above. The equality & sex war is to keep prole women fighting amongst selves and with men as distraction and entertainment; aka to keep her sleeping as a useful idiot.

That is the socialist's agenda down here at the lower levels. They are bus fare, if that much, to the higher realm mother lode. Nothing more than sow or seed pigs replenishing pork belly commodities bought and sold on open markets every day when meat markets open and close.

Independently research about these invisible sects not the conspiracy crap of Vanderbilt's and Rothschild's. I am sure they are in that but are very, minor red herring players to the intellectuals like Ms. Besant. Her warnings are there but one has to sift through a lot of sand to find her gold nuggets. I am not here for that. Want to know do the work. I point to the moon, if interested look to the moon and find what lies there IN PLAIN SIGHT. The Theosophical Society has metaphysical materials on the net free to download that are advanced out of this world. They were written long ago but are kept updated, and they make sense. Not like that religious gibberish fed to you since your first Sunday school visits. Not even the Church messes with these people.

They are only one sector of the Elite ruling families controlling this planet for aeons. Many ruling families exist on earth. Anyway, Annie spilt the beans in 1888 that US was going Commonwealth or Socialist. She knew the plan that initiated in USA around 1900. The way she released that information was in a book that she wrote, I forget the title. She nested that gem into it as a blurb. It stood out because her comment had no reason or meaning – non sequitur. Ancient Greeks employed this ploy in their writings over 5000 years ago. Plato's Republic has numerous instances of this tried and true method nesting truth in plain sight that censors miss. Grace Slick's song White Rabbit did the same during the 60's drug culture breaking through censorship in media. Her message whizzed under their noses and over their heads to masses. The censor's never knew what hit them. Grace & Annie simply followed what the ascended or old masters did in hiding their messages from censorship!

Remember I wrote that (Truth) is never hidden. Grace & Annie's messages were in plain sight. Alert awake people found them. That is how you too will find (truth) when it comes to you and why it cannot be stamped out by the dark ruling forces doing their best to destroy it. Ie. Genocides of entire cultures is used to wipe out knowledge of the (truth.) People are inconsequential to these powers. You and I are nothing more to them than cockroaches! Genocides destroying hundreds of thousands of years worth of knowledge since the original messenger or Christ visited in a bygone era telling us who, what, when, why, how and about this place, about us and how to get home. On the other hand the dark ruling power's agenda is very bad, very, very, bad.

Mr. Reagan inherited a train wreck mess after 60+ years of Socialist rule in this country. Same as Otto's last words when that bit his ass were, 'FUBAR, I AM FUCKED!!! FRITZ, ACH D LEIBER!!!' Not sure what that means but I don't think it is good. In Reagan's case he and his administration used quick thinking to defuse a 60 year ticking time bomb set on 'ding and boom' and to get this country back on track again. He and his troopers successfully did so. America still suffers the damages from that socialist SNAFU.

During 1980 golden years of Reagan, America channeled its hostile energies into proactive pursuits and a renaissance of music, movies, books, and many more memes; except they were not called that then because the word was uninvented so we called them good old-fashioned fads. One such fad was Disco, which ushered in a feminine grace it were. Women were so graceful and beautiful in flowing long hair, dresses, and suave moves on Disco dance floors, and everywhere else! She was SEXY. She moved and carried her with grace and charm. American woman made another giant SEXY step from the natural flower child look glowing in her youthful womanhood during 1960-1970's.

American Woman was lovely before that under artistic license of Vallejo, Vargas, and more artists who elevated woman to a place among Mt. Olympus' goddesses beyond belief following earlier renaissance masters of Rembrandt, Renoir, Sargent and more. Renaissance women never heard of Weight Watcher's or that pleasingly plump was ugly. Doubt that? Look at Renoir's priceless masterpieces that glow radiantly of womanhood's charm, glory, and beauty. Sadly all of that faded into a cesspool of raunchy degradation beneath even what Larry Flynt's Hustler could muster moving in time with degrading western America's feminism aka Feminazism.

Note: no disrespect to Larry Flynt. He mainly expressed his views via Hustler magazine against church-state, socialist, censorship. Flynt followed a Carney named Anton La Vey who wrote the Satanic Bible as a backlash, protest and satire against hokey, hypocritical, evil christianity. It started out as a joke. However his satire turned into a cult following not even he imagined. It made him a rich and famous man!! I read both books and they are humanist approaches to life similar to Buddhism. The most sacred holy day in La Veys books are each persons birthday; his or her arrival on earth not some woo-woo myth worshipping a man. All the baby eating, blood sacrifice Devil stereotype porn came from Christians like judge dildo in their roof-raising ruckus that the Satanic Bible was Antichrist incarnate, which only fanned books sales and Vey's popularity even bigger than the Jesus con that they sold. As Rocky Horror Picture Show produced in 1974 that turned into a worldwide cult & following, in a good way, and is still very popular today!! The play is macabre but very creative and good! What these very brave and heroic trailblazers did was say

FUCK CHURCH-STATE CHRISTIANITY, CENSORSHIP, AND FUBAR, MINDFUCK OF THE HUMAN MIND & DEATH CLAMP ON IT THAT RETARDS
HUMAN EVOLUTION THAT HAS STIFLED CREATIVITY FOR AEONS SO THAT A BUNCH OF RULING DIPSHITS IN POWER CAN STAY IN POWER. THAT IS WHY PEOPLE TODAY KNOW THAT THE EARTH IS ROUND NOT FLAT!
PEOPLE LIKE THIS WHO SAID, DAMN THE CONSEQUENCES TO OVERCOME
FEAR TO CUT THEIR CHAINS. THEY WERE THE ROSA PARKS THAT SAID,
'NOT TODAY AM I FEARING AND BELIEVING IN LIES – NO MORE! YES,
SOME LIKE TIMOTHY LEARY AND ROSA PARKS TOOK ONE HELL OF A BEATING BUT IN GRACEFULLY STANDING AGAINST THEIR PERSECUTORS MADE AMERICAN COWARDS SELF-EXAMINE TO ASK AM I DOGSHIT UNDER A JACKBOOT OR A HUMAN BEING STANDING ON TWO FEET GODDAMMIT?

It was people like Parks, La Vey and Flynt who changed our world. The movers and shakers with good ideas and ability to make them happen in practical, applied life. All they need is incentive and means to do so. Ordinary people, born into greatness that only needed a nudge to bring out their gifts. BTW, that is the whole premise of Atlas Shrugged, Ayn Rand's masterpiece. The finest example of what a nudge does to heroes born into greatness.

HEROES ARE NOT MADE THEY ARE BORN INTO GREATNESS.

1980's Rock and roll toned down into very nice music in time with baby boomers getting older, tired from putting up with societal demands, careers, and KIDS now rearranging their lives to suit them. One heard the standard parental curse that we all use when losing the war to our children, which goes something like this:

"I hope that when you move out of the house and have kids that they all grow up just like you and mistreat you like you are now torturing me...." Our curses differed from what our parents used. Theirs was "...when you get married, move out and have kids I hope they are just like you..."

Times were different. Kids in our days did not leave home; they stayed at home living with parents in cahoots with their ally kids aka grandkids and sometimes worthless boyfriends or husbands, like Gloria and Meathead all in the family tormenting Archie, hammering us from all sides.' When kids did leave home parents supported the whole gang plus per diem. So it was cheaper to keep them at home. In some cases 2 or more generations of kids and grandkids, great grandkids in rare cases lived at home with the original grandparents. Not because they wanted to, but because economically they had to! The reason, wrongheaded socialist policies; kids could not afford to leave home in self-support. Now kids are raised in learned helplessness and never grew up!

Until 1980, Socialists were still using Great Depression and WW2 economics, poverty and upwards of over 90% income tax rates to control US slave masses. Poor people spending all their time scratching out a living do not realize what is happening, who and where is the real problem so they can fix it proper; aka to overthrow socialist slave owners. People never saw this when US news was condemning Russia doing the same thing to her people in following US's example. Monkey Nation sees Monkey Nation copies! That was the point. To red herring dumb-mass American attention away from realizing that US was just like Russia. The idea of collapsing the US during Carter's era was to merge or assimilate Russia and US as affiliate socialist countries i.e. as Great Britain and America were once co-joined. Reagan Administration & capitalists derailed socialist plans proper. Bastard socialists.

I noticed among my coworkers who had kids at home was their constant presence hiding out shelter at work from home life. We also tended to babble incoherently to selves muttering word salads of colorful yet incomprehensible superlatives with an occasional coherent word bobbing up such as 'kids'...mumble, stumble, 'mumble 'leave home'...mumble, stumble, mumble 'kids,' mumble, mumble 'I'm leaving home,' mumble.... Vacant TV stares accompanied lost, stumbling and wandering parent employees incessantly talking to selves.

Married, childless employees were always so happy and carefree; especially when planning vacations or holiday on alien planets such as Vail or Crested Butte ski resorts. Spending summer on Tahiti beaches, or impromptu vacations in Spain or Europe on another honeymoon. They were so happy all the time. Time off was more important than hiding out at work. Fancy that!

Mention leaving work to go home for a holiday or other break to parents on the lam and s/he shrieked NO! NO! Then ran screaming and babbling down the hallway never to be seen again. Another tragic case of parents who disappeared from home and work leaving no forwarding address.

KIDS DO THAT TO PARENTS

Employers became so concerned about the phenomenon that they started putting 'missing parent employee' pictures on water coolers and coffee cups out of workplace vending machines to help find them. We all knew mother's curse was hexing the poor fool..... Why? Mother's curses were haunting us too. What goes around comes around. When being a pain in the ass child and teenager to your parents after becoming one you will see that again in bitch-shit, purple hair, fuck you 'T' shirt, stereo, and full volume.

In other words we could now feel our age...as we hummed , 'here comes that old age feeling again!' One could not sing it because the 'O' word always got stuck on our lips. Who you calling old? Those were fightin words except none of us had anymore fight left in us. Why? KIDS! Moreover, what did not work mercifully no longer hurt. Instead of rubbing the old ladies back with scented oils for amour, I was rubbing out knots and kinks as she mumbles, 'it's been one hell of those months the 7th day of this week' as I continued smoothing out stress wrinkles she softly snored like a chainsaw. I am envious, I am envious.

Yep, one helplessly stands in shock as the good old times now run into old times like pee flowing down the outside of a toilet bowl after a misfire. Gotta get those gun sights adjusted...old one eye is shootin a little off the target. It takes a lot of talent missing a hole that big at only two inches away. The other dreaded curse is when one realizes in sheer helpless terror that s/he is just like their parents; getting old like them and life is running down the gurgler. Usually that is the straw breaking the proverbial wagon wheel.

Ie. One day I came to morning coffee with a note by the toaster under very burned toast that could pass for a charcoal briquette. I quit! I am running away! Parenting is not for sissies! I am a sissy with a pussy stretched out the size of Texas from having those kids to prove it! I quit!

Signed Bunsy...aka Sissy

PS. don't let that get around I have a reputation ya know.

She snapped. I saw coworkers do that as occupational hazard of parenting! Served Bunsy right, kids were her idea. I only went along because she had a knife at my throat and kept muttering Bobbit or kids. Bobbit or kids. Bobbit or kids. She made her extortion demands very clear while holding old one-eye hostage.

Bobbit was a rich guy who married a nutcase; she got mad at him. One night while he was sleeping she cut off his dick, got in her Rolls Royce drove someplace and threw it out the car window. Look it up for more drama. Rich are not smart just rich.

Some very nice things came out of her absence. I did not need to rub her back anymore. Again I am envious – you coward; about that time said teenage daughter whizzed through the kitchen asking for the car keys... ‘go ask you mother’ said, I. Then escaped on the lam for work, and wandered around all day stumbling and mumbling among my coworker zombies where the kids could not get me.

Reluctantly, Bunsy finally returned. I knew said coward would be back. She left her tampons behind and the woman never leaves home without those torpedoes. I also found out where she lived and threatened to send the kids over for an indefinite summer vacation, mine. She also needed me as back up and for milk money. Solo parenting was not her forte, so she borrowed one of those Geo tracking leg bracelets they use on prisoners from the local penitentiary. They were all too happy to loan it to Bunsy after she threatened the warden that if he did not she'd send the kids to him for an indefinite summer vacation. Bunsy is an extortionist from way back. She is very convincing with a knife in her hand. Better than Al Capone who said, 'when asking for a favor, a gun in your hand seems to work better than saying please, but asking please with a gun is friendlier.' Ms. Etiquette pales to Capone's charm, I tell ya.

So Bunsy came home and promised never to run away again. Gotta watch those women's promises. She omitted all the other ways she can escape. Gotta be a Philadelphia lawyer when dealing with wives & women, I tell ya. Now she mumbles, and stumbles around the house a lot, which makes me smile. Why should she be happy?

For those of you who missed my first warning solely for your benefit I will repeat it again just for you.

I will tell you now that parenting and old age are not for sissies. Do not even try this at home until backed up against the wall screaming, 'Damn the toilet seat, come and get me you bitches' while holding a '12-pk of Depends' in each hand set on auto fire and a canister of Sure in your mouth with the pin pulled!! Do not even look at me...old age and parenting suck and are not for the sissy or pussified of heart.

Until next time, I am outta here.
